

OLYMPIC PARK CO.
OFFERS 'THE ECHO'John E. Hazzard Will Play His Original Part as Added Feature.

Manager Frank M. Rainger of the Olympic Park Opera Company still continues to hand out surprises of an enjoyable nature. For the week of July 22 there will be a double surprise. First, the offering of "The Echo," for which the exclusive rights to produce have been secured from Charles B. Dillingham at a considerable expense, and, second, the special engagement of so prominent an actor as John E. Hazzard to play his original part of Rudolph W. Sylvester, a millionaire in search of "peace and quiet."

Mr. Hazzard, more familiarly known as "Jack," has the distinction of being an actor as well as an actor. In this line his efforts have been confined to the lighter vein, his publications being "Poetry and Rot," "The Four-Flusher," "Verse and Verse," and "Ain't It Awful, Mabel?" the latter being the most popular and bringing him into the limelight as a writer.

Mr. Hazzard has been in support of such prominent artists as Fritz Scheff, Louise Dresser, Hattie Williams and others. Stella Prater, who has the part in "The Echo," is the "Yama Yama Girl," starred, and Lucille Saunders, Peggy Wood, Edna Temple, Alberta Davis, Frank Woods, Fred Frear, Henry Coote, Harlan P. Briggs, Jean Barnette and Kathryn Aravanis will assist in the fun, supported by the beauty chorus and pony ballet.

The piece will be staged in a sumptuous manner by the producer, Edward P. Temple. The usual performance will be given with matinee Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday. Manager Rainger announces the most beautiful of all the Augustin Daily productions, "San Toy," in preparation for the week of July 29.

THEATRE BANDS
OUT ON STRIKEMusicians Quit Just Before
Curtains Rise, Inconveniencing Managers.

NEW YORK, July 20.—The American Federation of Musicians repudiated last night to the decision reached on Wednesday by the Association of Theatre Managers of Greater New York, not to deal in the future with the musical unions but directly with the men, by ordering a strike of all the orchestras in the theatres affected by the dispute.

The order to strike came as a result of a meeting of the union musicians, held in the afternoon, at their headquarters at Third Avenue and Eighty-sixth street.

Strike as Certain as Go Up.
All the musicians reported for duty, but when 8 o'clock came they refused to go into the orchestra pits. By this time the theatres were pretty well filled. Then began a lively scramble on the part of the managers to replace the strikers with non-union men.

At the Globe Theatre, where "The Rose Maid" is being presented, the strike had been anticipated and twelve non-union musicians who had been rehearsing all day were hurried to the theatre in automobiles.

"A Winsome Widow" was sung at the Moulin Rouge with a piano accompaniment.

Vaudeville Houses Affected.
Four vaudeville houses were also affected by the strike. They were Hammerstein's, Victoria, the American Music Hall, the Fifth Avenue Theatre and Keith's Union Square House.

There is also a union orchestra at the Columbia Theatre, where "The Merry Go Rounders" is being presented, but the engagement will end tonight, and for the final performance a non-union pianist will supply the harmony.

"Bunt Pulls the Strings" at the Comedy, "Bought and Paid For" at the Playhouse and the dress rehearsal of "The Passing Show of 1912" were not affected by the strike, as the Shuberts, who book these houses, have accepted the demands of the musicians unions.

President Joseph H. Weber, of the American Federation of Musicians, said that a general strike would be ordered as soon as the new dramatic season opens.

At the time of his death, March 22, 1907, it was estimated by his friends that the estate would total $1,500,000. His will, filed April 27, left everything, after creating a few trusts, to his sons and daughters, Joseph F. Coffey, Jay Coffey, Marie Coffey and Mrs. Florence McCarthy. Mrs. McCarthy has two children.

In his report to the surrogate, Mr. Kennedy says that $200 was realized from the sale of the piano and furniture in the Coffey home, which, valued at $150, brings the total up to $450.

Further along in his report Kennedy states that the estate might possibly be increased from $450 to $450,000. To obtain this result, however, would entail much litigation, and then the assets would dwindle, after the payment of many debts, to $150.

MARIE CAHILL'S HUSBAND
BEAT HIM, HE SAYS; IS SUE

NEW YORK, July 20.—Asserting that he was beaten, his glasses broken and his face badly bruised and that he had to defend himself with a knife from the attacks of Daniel Arthur, the theatrical manager, as husband of Marie Cahill, the actress, Eugene Adler, a brother-in-law of Mr. Arthur, living at a West Seventy-second street hotel, has today answered his wife's complaint in her suit for divorce. Mrs. Adler alleges abandonment and cruelty.

SCHOOL TEACHER IS TREED BY A GOAT

NEW YORK, July 20.—An impolite goat caused Miss Angeline Wallace, a Manhattan public school teacher, to climb a tree in a farmer's field in West New Brighton.

"There ought to be a law," said Miss Wallace today, "to compel goats to mind their own business and not go prying into other people's affairs." The young woman was strolling along the Willow Brook road when the goat attacked her.

DEMOCRATS HAD
$620,644 IN 1908Herman Ridder Contributed
$37,000 for Last Campaign of Bryan.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Herman Ridder, treasurer of the Democratic National Committee in 1908, today produced for the inspection of the Senate committee investigating campaign contributions the official reports of the committee's receipts and expenditures he filed with the secretary of state of New York in 1908.

J. J. Martin, private secretary to the secretary of state, produced the reports as official custodian of them. They showed the total receipts were $620,644.77 and the total expenditures $619,410.06.

Mr. Ridder told the committee how he raised the money for William J. Bryan's last presidential fight. "I was chairman of the committee," he declared. "I gave $37,000. Mr. Bryan made a rule that no one should contribute more than $10,000. So $10,000 was subscribed in my name, and each of my sons gave $5,000."

"In August Belmont contributed anything in 1908?" asked Chairman Clapp. "No, he did not," said Mr. Ridder. Mr. Belmont had told the committee recently that he contributed about $250,000 to the Democratic national committee in 1904.

"Did Mr. Thomas F. Ryan contribute in 1908?" continued Senator Clapp. "No, he didn't," said Mr. Ridder. "Might they have contributed to someone else?"

"No one, unless Mr. Sheehan, no. I am sure they did not through Mr. Sheehan, because the money he contributed was too small," said the witness. Tammany Hall contributed $10,000, Mr. Ridder told the committee, and Robert Ewing, of New Orleans, collected $37,000, mostly in five and ten-cent pieces.

The witness recalled, with the aid of the official records, that 25,000 names were enrolled on the list of contributors. Senator Clapp remarked that every time Mr. Ridder mentioned a contribution by a Tammany man he referred to him as a "good" man.

"Do you mean to cast reflections on the other contributors?" asked the senator. "No," replied Mr. Ridder, "but after Bryan's denunciation at Baltimore it was necessary to explain the qualifications of Tammany men. I collected the money in 1908," he added, "and I am sure not a dollar of it was tainted."

No money was received from corporations, Mr. Ridder added.

SETTLE FIGHT ON
CONVENTION FLOORCaucus Fails, but Michigan
Progressives Will Not Be Split.

JACKSON, Mich., July 20.—All hope of settling their differences in caucus having been abandoned, the "stub" and "full" ticket factions of the new progressive party entered the convention today to end the fight on the floor.

Both sides were determined, but neither was too confident of the outcome. It was said that Frank W. Knox, who was leading the "stub" ticket crowd, would be content if the convention named Roosevelt presidential electors and passed the endorsement of Governor Osborn—provided a full ticket was not put in the field.

Theodore M. Joslyn, at the head of the "full" ticket forces, said he hoped to win his fight for a State, congressional and legislative ticket, but that if it appeared the majority of the convention was favorable to the "stub" ticket, he would acquiesce and follow the crowd. Leaders got some comfort out of the feeling that regardless of which side won the progressives would leave the hall united for the fight.

"Stub" ticket men were elated over the personnel of the resolutions committee. It was composed of Frank W. Knox, C. A. Nichols and Colonel I. N. Rankin, of the "stubs"; Sybrant Wessellus and Theodore M. Joslyn, of the "full" ticket faction, and H. F. Probert, who was not aligned with either the resolutions committee, which were not completed until early this morning, were to be submitted to Senator Joseph M. Dixon, Colonel Roosevelt's campaign manager, before the convention passed on them.

Prior to the opening of the convention in the hall the delegates are to make a pilgrimage to the Jackson oaks.

BOARD TO PROBE CHARGES AGAINST OFFICE-HOLDERS

WASHINGTON, July 20.—The United States Civil Service Commission will investigate the alleged political activities of federal office-holders in the Republican pre-convention campaign at Chicago.

Chairman Black today said the investigations would begin about August 1.

FREE BOY WHO FOUGHT IN DEFENSE OF INJURED BIRD

YONKERS, July 20.—Anthony Lanco, of South Broadway, Yonkers, when charged in police court yesterday with assaulting 15-year-old Leonard Smith, testified that he struck him into protect an injured sparrow from cruelty.

Smith told Judge Beal that Lanco hit him in the eye. "He was chasing an injured sparrow," said Lanco, "and was about to jump on it when I struck him with my arm to save the sparrow. As a result of the blow one of the boy's fingers went into his own eye." The complaint was dismissed.

Morgan's Shave
15, Not 10 Cts.

LENOX, Mass., July 20.—Predatory plutocrats, millionaires, near-millionaires, diplomats and near-diplomats, who largely comprise the summer colony here, are all laying odds on whether the high cost of living will force J. Pierpont Morgan into growing a beard now that Ducas has raised the price of shave in his local barber shop from ten to fifteen cents.

Ducas has been shaving diplomats and millionaires for the last thirty years. The high cost of living might skyrocket, but Ducas was indifferent and so at ten cents a shave till yesterday, when he boosted the price to fifteen cents. No kinks have yet been registered, but Mr. Morgan is due in September and his well-known tendency to resist any inroads on his dividend may provoke a protest.

WOMAN KILLED BY
KICK; GIRL HELDFifteen-Year-Old Montclair Negress Locked Up on Manslaughter Charge.

Charged with manslaughter, Marion Price, a negro, 15 years old, is under arrest, accused of having caused the death of Mrs. Bessie Mayer, of Montclair, who died of an internal hemorrhage, resulting from a kick in the abdomen deliberately inflicted by the Price girl.

Mrs. Mayer was at first reported to the police to have died of an attack of heart disease, brought on by excitement due to an attempt to separate her 15-year-old son and several other boys engaged in a street fight. An autopsy revealed the true cause.

Mrs. Mayer was 25 years old, the wife of Nathan Mayer, a junk dealer, of 10 Bay street. She was in perfectly good health, her husband asserted, except that she was soon expected to give birth to a child.

Hearing screaming in front of her home late yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Mayer ran out to the street and found her 15-year-old son, Edward, kicking "Boney" in the neighborhood, was in a mixup with a lad of about the same size, Edward Howitt. As she was trying to separate the combatants several actual eye-witnesses declared, she hurried at her by some of the bystanders.

The excitement had drawn a large crowd about the scene in a few minutes when, it is alleged, the Price girl, some of whose younger sisters and brothers were in the crowd, ran up to Mrs. Mayer and deliberately kicked her in the abdomen.

She reeled and almost fell. She tottered to the porch of her home, only a few steps away, then she staggered and fell prostrate on the steps. She died instantly.

The Price girl, who lives at 21 Bay street, was arraigned before Recorder Henry Yost in the Montclair Police Court, charges having been preferred by Chief of Police Gallagher. Being under age, she was remanded to the House of Detention in this city.

The Montclair Police were notified that the woman had died from heart trouble. They had the body removed to Kunz's morgue, where an autopsy was performed by Deputy County Physician M. Herbert Simmons, of Orange. He discovered that death was due to a hemorrhage, caused by a blow on the abdomen. Even a slight blow in the woman's condition would have been fatal.

Witnesses told the police of the Price girl's action and she was arrested. Neighbors of Mrs. Mayer stated last night that she was a peaceable woman, and that she had done nothing in the quarrel to arouse anger. She is survived by her husband and four children.

DIVORCEE KILLED
BY REALTY MAN"Accidental," Says Arrested
Slayer After Death of Victim, with Whom He Lived.

NEW YORK, July 20.—George R. Harkness, a wealthy real estate dealer of Sea Cliff, Long Island, was arrested by the police here early today, charged with having shot and killed Mrs. Florence Hopp, of Lewisburg, Pa., at the Hotel York shortly after midnight. Mrs. Hopp, who was 25 years old and a handsome brunette, had been in Harkness's company for several days. It is alleged, Harkness declared that the killing was accidental, occurring while Mrs. Hopp was examining an automatic revolver he had recently purchased.

No one at the hotel had heard the shot or knew anything about the occurrence until the arrival of the policeman. The woman was breathing her last as the officer entered the room.

When arraigned at the police station, Harkness admitted that the woman was not his wife. "She is an old boyhood friend of mine," he said, "and has been in the city only a few days. She expected to return to Lewisburg on an early train today, and we had just been consulting a timetable when the mishap with the revolver occurred."

Harkness is married, he said, and has a fine home at Sea Cliff. Mrs. Hopp, he declared, was divorced from her husband some time ago.

TAFT'S REPLY TO
ROOSEVELT READYPresident's Answer to Fraud
Charges to Be Used as Campaign Literature.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—President Taft's reply to Colonel Roosevelt's charge that the President's renomination was a victory by fraud and that if seventy-two delegates who received their credentials by fraud had not been seated Taft would not have been nominated, is ready for the printer.

To Be Used in Campaign.
The President and his Cabinet went over his final rough draft of the reply yesterday. Ex-Senator Dick, of Ohio, the President's contest lawyer at Chicago, prepared the reply. The statement will be printed as a campaign document and distributed broadcast in the next two months.

In substance the reply is, in ex-Senator Dick's own language, a presentation of the essence of the evidence submitted by both sides before the national and credentials committees at Chicago. The contents receive the most attention in the refutation are those from Washington, Texas, California, Arkansas, Alabama and Indiana.

Arrangements were completed for Taft supporters in both houses of Congress to deliver speeches from the floor on the Roosevelt charges. These speeches will be based on the reply and will be delivered at the time or soon after the newspapers receive the summary.

According to report, progressive Republicans in both houses will make reply. Senator Clapp, of Minnesota, will be Colonel Roosevelt's chief spokesman in the Senate and Representative Norris, of Nebraska, in the House.

Lightning Bolt
Shaves a Cat

NEW YORK, July 20.—Theodore Roosevelt, a gray cat, is the household pet of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wilmarth, of Amityville, L. I. At the height of a severe electrical storm Mrs. Wilmarth left her bed to close the windows in an adjoining room. Theodore Roosevelt was on the window sill near her head. A bolt of lightning entered the window and landed with great force on T. R., shaving his face of whiskers and hair, leaving it clean as a whistle, but otherwise not harming him.

The bolt next zipped downstairs, entered the china closet and smashed a saucer into splinters, leaving the cup standing in its place intact. Thereupon the mischievous bolt found outlet via a wire clothesline and entered a coal bin in the yard and shattered it.

ROOSEVELT WILL
ASSAIL BOSSESAccuses Taft and Wilson of Accepting Support of "Vicious Element."

OYSTER BAY, July 20.—In solid phalanx, the third-term party will array itself, in the fall campaign, against boss supremacy.

An attack upon the domination of the boss is to comprise one of the principal planks of Roosevelt's platform. The former President felt the effect of the boss control in the Chicago convention.

He says the nomination of Woodrow Wilson brought about a mental revolution, only it was the Democratic brand that did it. In his swing through the country from September on to election day, Roosevelt will cry out against the enthronement of the boss. The galaxy of bosses in the Republican camp, from Bryan, Cullender, Penrose, Gallinger, all of them will be run in direct parallel with Taggart, Sullivan and their fellows in the Democratic forces. The grasp of the trusts will be laid at their door. Loudly the ex-President will insist that President Taft is responsible for the high cost of living are the bosses, working out crooked legislation favoring the gigantic competition-stifling combinations.

Assault Taft and Wilson.
In his assaults upon the bosses the former President will refer to the manipulations of the Baltimore and Chicago conventions as indicating the anxiety of the professional politician to keep himself in power. Taft and Wilson will be accused of accepting the support of "the most vicious element in political life."

During the last few days Colonel Roosevelt has been in touch with leaders in all of the States where discussion has arisen over the manner of running the Roosevelt electors next fall. The former President wanted to know from them the exact perplexities facing the Roosevelt party in the different States.

Quick responses coming into Sagamore Hill indicate that the third party managers are all anxious to do some practical working arrangement that will avoid any clash in the party.

While a divergent view from that assumed by Roosevelt has been taken by some of his supporters, especially in Pennsylvania, Maryland and New Jersey, as to running the Roosevelt electors on the same ticket with Taft, the former President has been assured that no serious ruction has come up. The leaders all favor a conference at Chicago before this party convention on August 5, at which the elector difficulty will be disposed of. They all assert there will be no friction about it.

As for the colonel, it may be stated that, while he wants to have his own way, he will bow to the inclination of his leaders in the various States rather than bring about any shadow of a clash.

"After all, it is a matter for the States to decide," remarked Roosevelt in talking over the elector situation a few days ago with one of his leaders.

Roosevelt worked on his convention speech yesterday, his activity being interrupted by only one caller, Professor Luther, of Trinity College, at Hartford, Conn., who talked of the economic problem.
